September 2014's monthly index of economic activity, IMACEC

According to preliminary information, last September the IMACEC rose 1.4% over the same month a year before. The seasonally-adjusted series dropped 0.2% with respect to the previous month, and increased 1.0% in twelve months. The month came with two working days more than September 2013.

The result reflected increased value added from services, partly offset by a decline in mining activity.

As per the calendar for the diffusion of National Accounts figures, preliminary GDP results for the third quarter of the year, together with revisions to first-and second-quarter figures, will be published next 18 November.
